INVITATION

Dear colleagues,

We cordially invite you to take part in the IIInd International Conference on Applied Science «Geodesy, Cartography, Geoinformatics and Cadastre. Science and Education», which will take place in Saint Petersburg on November 6–8th, 2019.

The main idea of the Conference is to create a platform for experience exchanging and presentation of research projects and innovation results.

We hope that the Conference will bring together specialists and scientists from universities and scientific research institutes, graduates, students, professionals from geodetic and cartographic companies, vendors of geodetic, cartographic, GIS equipment and software and also those, who use geodetic, cartographic and GIS technologies in their activities.

The Conference program will consist of plenary meeting and work of sections. In the days of the Conference, the School of Young Scientists will be held. Within the framework of the School there will be organized workshops and lectures from specialists in cartography, GIS technology, remote sensing and other areas for students and graduate students. Collection of the Conference materials will be published.

Conference 2019 venue: Herzen University (Saint Petersburg, 48 Moyka River Embankment).

Application forms for participation are accepted until October 30, 2019; abstracts submission is opened until September 5, 2019. Arrangement fee is 2500 rubles – until September, 5th and 3000 rubles – for later registration. Arrangement fee for students – 1500 rubles.
